

TECHNICAL SHEET VINTAGE 2006

2006 vintage was characterized by homogenous flowering. July was hot and sunny. August was quite fresh for the season.

At the beginning of September, the ripening of grapes was favoured by the heavy heat.

After an overcast weather, harvesting started on the 18th of September with a bright day. The last Merlots were picked on the 25th.

The picking of Cabernet started on the 29th after some sunny days propitious for their maturity. The last cabernet plot was picked on October the 5th.

Harvesting took place with a variable weather and some showers. Margaux appellation was particularly favoured by the climate.
